System Performance Measures Impact

For non-housing projects

Background: System-level improvement and change requires all CoC-funded projects to act intentionally, collaboratively, and with purposes beyond compliance. Even though system support grants like HMIS and SSO-CE cannot be designed and measured in the same way as direct housing and services project, each one has an important and unique role to play in supporting the CoC to improve outcomes for people experiencing homelessness.

Instructions: To understand the impact of non-housing projects on outcomes in the CoC region, please provide narrative to describe this project's observed and planned impacts on HUD's System Performance Measures.

For 2023, select at least two measures to describe past activities and outcomes. Address the following in your responses:

- a) actions taken,
- b) who was involved,
- c) how the action is relevant to the measure,
- d) how the action was selected, and
- e) what performance outcomes the CoC has or will experience from the actions.

For 2024, select at least two measures to describe activities and outcomes that are planned/underway. Address the following in your responses:

- a) actions planned/underway,
- b) who is involved,
- c) how the action is relevant to the measure,
- d) how the action was selected, and
- e) what performance outcomes the CoC should expect to experience from the actions.

Please limit your total response to two pages.
